On the occasion of the global celebration of World Day to Combat Desertification, the UN Convention to Combat desertification (UNCCD) – Global Mechanism, the Government of Italy and FAO will present a seminar on “Land for Life – How Sustainable Land Management can Improve People’s Livelihood and Resilience”. The seminar will showcase selected initiatives of the Rome-based agencies in support of UNCCD implementation and present the priorities of the newly established Global Mechanism office at FAO.

World Day to Combat Desertification 2014

LAND FOR LIFE

How Sustainable Land Management Can Improve People's Livelihoods and Resilience

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) and the Global Mechanism (GM) of the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD) have the pleasure of inviting attendance at the celebrations of the World Day to Combat Desertification (WDCD) on Tuesday 17 June 2014, from 18:30 to 19:30 hours as a side event in the context of the 149th Session of the FAO Council at FAO Headquarters in the Red Room (Building A, 1st floor).

This year, the main theme of the WDCD is "Land Belongs to the Future – Let's Climate Proof it" and focuses on ecosystem-based adaptation in order to: i) increase the attention given to land and soil within climate change adaptation; ii) mobilize support for sustainable land management (SLM); and iii) call for the inclusion of land and soil and their significance to food security into national climate change adaptation policies.

The side event will also be an opportunity to officially inaugurate the new Office of the GM of the UNCCD at FAO, which is hosting the GM Programme on "Liaison – Land, Security and Resilience (LLSR)".

The side event will highlight activities of FAO, UNCCD and the Governments of Italy and Kuwait to combat desertification, land degradation and drought and present the priorities of the newly established GM office at FAO.
