State of North Carolina,
Executive Department,

Raleigh, August 20, 1909.

Hon. Philander Knox,
Secretary of State,
Washington , D.C.

Dear Sir:

I have been requested by Mr. David Lubin, delegate to the United States International Institute of Agriculture, Rome, Italy, to nominate some representative person from this State for appointment by you as a delegate of the United States to the General Assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture to convene in Rome in the Palace of the Institute on December 12, 1909.

In compliance with this request, I have the honor to nominate Col. Benehan Cameron, of Raleigh, N.C. as a gentleman in every way worthy of such honor. If it meets with your approval, I shall be glad if you will appoint him.

With great respect, I remain,

Yours truly,

W.W. Kitchin.
